● ● ● | Enlisted Professional Development Expo

The main purpose of this event is to give Coast Guard non-rates access to information about each of the regular Coast Guard enlisted ratings

Get off to a good start on your Coast Guard career so as to make a better-informed decision when choosing which rating to enter. There will be booths where you'll find representatives of the Chief's mess who will answer as many questions as you can think of on topics like:

- the skills you will acquire in each rating,
- where you might be stationed as a member of a specific rating,

- rating career paths,
- advanced training available for each rating,
- enlisted-to-officer programs,
- your chances for advancement,
- duties and responsibilities of petty officers in each rating,
- what "A" school is like, and
- what it takes to excel in each rating.

Even though non-rates are the event's target audience, everyone who attends will have a chance to talk with a chief who has first hand experience in each rating, the Career Development Advisor, and the Educational Services Officer. With them, you can

- gain insight about what's expected of senior petty officers
- ask questions about things like Enlisted Performance Qualifications and E-PME performance requirements
- discuss career topics including career paths, the SWE process, Individual Development Plans, career goal-setting, professional certifications
- ask about voluntary education, education assessments, how to get started toward a college degree, degree completion tips, taking tests for college credit, etc.

You'll also be able to talk with representatives from United Services Military Apprenticeship Program (USMAP) and Atlantic Cape Community College (ACCC) to find out

- the benefits of participating in USMAP
- which trades you can complete an apprenticeship in and which might be for you
- about the community college for Cape May County and Atlantic County
- degree programs and courses available at ACCC
- transferability of credit from and to ACCC
